

Anouk Kuitenbrouwer Dipl. Architect & Urban Planner

As of summer 2022 Anouk Kuitenbrouwer has joined the academic staff as a lecturer in spatial planning and urban design at the Institute for Spatial and Landscape Development (IRL), teaching the international master's program Spatial Development and Infrastructure Systems.

As a trained architect and urban planner and partner at KCAP, Anouk Kuitenbrouwer brings over 20 years of knowledge from the field. She has worked on architecture and urban planning projects in Switzerland, Germany, across Europe and South East Asia. Her focus areas are urban transformations, station area developments, airport area developments, innovation districts and strategic master planning. She has comprehensive experience in leading large design teams and advising on process design and stakeholder engagement. Research is an integral part of Anouk's work to support the understanding of urban development processes. She is often invited as an expert to workshops and juries.
